BE Inspired by Mary Anne Gale

5:30 pm Reception in the Library Art Gallery

6:00 pm Running for Office: Getting Yourself Elected to the Career You Really Want

Mary Anne Gale was Procter and Gamble's first female plant manager and subsequently, the first female vice president in P&G's manufacturing organization. She worked for P&G for 35 years. Mary Anne is a role model and mentor for women across the U.S.

Mary Anne graduated from MSU in 1971 with a B.A. in Retailing. She currently resides with her husband in Cheboygan, MI and works on Mackinac Island in their businesses, The Original Butterfly House and Insect World.

Joint Library Card

Don't have a public library card?

We can solve that for you by turning your campus ID into a joint library card that works at both the LSSU Library AND the Bayliss Public Library. With a public library card you can not only check out materials, but also access thousands of e-books and audio books through Overdrive. With a single card you can access the collections of both libraries and their electronic collections. Ask at the circulation desk!

Featured Database: LexisNexis Academic

LexisNexis/Academic is a full-text research database that specializes in international news, legal (US and Canadian) and company/market analysis. The legal content includes federal and state cases, law reviews, state statutes and regulations, federal statutes and regulations as legal reference and Shepard's Citations. International news can be sorted by country of origin, type of publication (trade journal, newspaper, newswire etc.) and date range. Business information includes SEC filings, company profiles, market news and industry reports. As with all LSSU electronic databases, access is available both on and off campus. If accessing off campus, you will be prompted for your campus network username and password.
