Featured Database:

ProQuest's Earth, Atmospheric & Aquatic Science Collection is an interdisciplinary database of abstracts and indexes, combined with full-text content from scholarly journals, trade journals, dissertations, conference proceedings, and other sources. Faculty and students within many of LSSU's programs, including biology, ecology, environmental science, fisheries and wildlife science, and geology, will find valuable scholarly literature in this excellent resource. You can access this database by using the Databases A to Z link on the library's home page.

Commons on the whiteboard wall? On Mondays, Professor Rob Kipka will post weekly challenging math problems. Email your solution to Prof. Kipka to be entered into a drawing for a free hot beverage in the Library. Stop by the Library to find your product, sum, result or Googolplex!

Palm of the Hand Memoir Writing Workshop held every first Tuesday of the month at > noon (by the east windows).

Led by LSSU Librarians, learn how to capture your life on paper, one memory at a time. Held on the first Tuesday of every month from Noon to 1 pm. Feel free to bring your lunch.

Upcoming workshops: March 3, April 7, May 5, and June 2.

Happy Light - Light Therapy

Do you suffer from seasonal affective disorder (SAD) because of the lack of sunshine? A Happy Light could help improve you overall mood, energy and concentration. We have three lamps available: two in the lower level by L150 conference room and one in the upper level by the glass bookcase. Please note that Counseling Services (906-635-2752) and the Health CARE Center (906-635-2110) are available by appointment if you have any concerns about depression or other health concerns.

We encourage students in crisis to visit Counseling Services immediately, no appointment needed.
